September Notes

We began the month celebrating Labor Day Sunday with dear friends at Central Christian Church, Pilot Point, Texas. Central's mission through many years has been to be a training ground for preachers, supplied in large part by students from Brite Divinity School, TCU, in Fort Worth.

After an unexpected morning off the following Sunday, I began a six-week session on "The Bible's Wisdom Literature" at University Christian Church, in Fort Worth. Revs. Ellen Lewis, Alan Lobaugh, and Cyndy Twedell are carrying on there, at present. I also had a chance to see Gilbert Davis, a dear man, and Newell Williams, current President of Brite. Both, I hasten to add, were attending UCC's 5 pm worship, "The Journey."

I closed the month with a two-week teaching stint at First United Methodist, Dallas, where I taught the Koinonia Class. Ran into longtime colleague, friend, and fellow Rice Owl, Dr. Bill Bryan.

Enjoyed so much Central Christian-Dallas's Homecoming Service, on the 20th. Rev. Capt Kyle Fauntleroy, USN, preached. Four Central "Timothys" were present: Kyle, Rev. Beverly Lawson, Rev. Donna Faulk, and me. I enjoyed being with Central's pastors, Rev. Norman Stolpe and Todd Boddy. Todd is my cohort on our Wednesday evening podcast.

Reviewers' Comments

"I want to express my gratitude for this translation. My wife Alicia brought it home in October, but we were in the midst of moving to the Metroplex. As 'fate' would have it, my daily Bible reading took me into Proverbs this January. Reading it in English had been difficult for me, because my mind seemed to wander. But when I picked up this interlinear translation, it was breathtaking!

"My Latin is not very good, but somehow reading a familiar text in an unfamiliar tongue uses a part of my mind that wasn't engaged previously. Particularly since some of the Latin words are such close cognates to English---yet just different enough that I have to think about what the Latin is really communicating.

"It sounds odd, but this book is helping me engage scripture because it takes what was once familiar and turns it into something strange---yet comprehensible. And I am grateful."
